Hi Melissa, what kind of job do you do that you have to put them in jars?, glad it is not me, some time they put all those spiders on display in the shopping centers, (not live ones)and thats how I like it. I also spray round the doors and windows to help deter them coming in the house, the big furry ones seem to manage to still get in and I am told they will not hurt you I till take no chances, I quickly show them the door on the end of a brush. Have you found out yet what the new spider is?.Talk about having the creeps yuk and yuk. I am now going to crawl away and have some tea. Ann
